INTRODUCTION

A key to any media relations campaign is distribution. Once you've crafted your key messages and created the media release/other promotional materials, you need to ensure that the copy is reaching the right media outlets to generate widespread coverage.

That's where the Saskatchewan Media Directory comes into play. This publication contains a detailed listing of all the media outlets in the province, from daily newspapers to radio broadcasters and TV stations with large reaches. However, not every story is necessarily a mainstream topic. Through our Specialty Publications section, you will find a detailed list of magazines, newsletters and e-blasts spread across a variety of sectors such as agriculture, culture and history. Take advantage of this section to target your media releases to the publications they're best suited for.

This is an annual publication, meaning it's the most up-to-date copy of media contacts available. Each year we review and update contact information for all media outlets, while adding new ones and taking out ones that are no longer in operation. Instead of constantly updating your media list, this publication ensures that you can devote your resources to developing and refining the communications pieces you submit to the media.

The team at Benchmark Public Relations has made every attempt to make this directory as comprehensive as possible. Thank you for purchasing this copy, and we welcome any comments you may have regarding improvements to future editions.

ABOUT BENCHMARK PRESS & BENCHMARK PUBLIC RELATIONS

There are plenty of firms and individuals who will tell you that they have the experience and qualifications to handle your marketing and public relations requirements, but you need much more than that. You need a public relations firm that embodies the goals and objectives of your organization and who believes as passionately as you do about your organization. That's where we come in.

Benchmark Public Relations, founded in 1992, has expanded to become an award-winning consulting firm. We provide strategic communications and marketing, issues management, research and evaluation, copywriting, editing, proofreading, media buying, event planning, website design and maintenance, contract administration, print design and production, and media relations and communications training. In 2005, we opened an office in Winnipeg to offer our expertise to a new market; and in 2009, we opened an office in Saskatoon to service a growing number of clients in Northern Saskatchewan.

After recognizing a need for a printing-on-demand, self-publishing firm in the province, Benchmark Public Relations decided to establish Benchmark Press in 2006. Benchmark Press oversees the publishing aspect of Benchmark Public Relations and continues to provide outstanding service to its clients.

Benchmark Press assists individuals and organizations in the publication of their books and creates new publications to fit specialty niche markets. Its mission is to provide cost-effective book publishing, so that everyone who wants to can publish their work.
